Q: What is the PHP Diabetes Sweepstakes?

A: Eligible Providers who achieve NCQA 50th percentile for HEDIS measure Hemoglobin A1c Control for Patients With Diabetes (HBD) - HbA1c Control (<8.0%) for the measurement year 2023 will be entered into a raffle for a chance to win a handheld RetinaVue camera which will enable providers to obtain high quality retinal images in the primary care setting.

Q: What is the purpose of the Diabetes Sweepstakes?

A: To improve HbA1c good control for Passport Medicaid members in the 2023 measurement year.

Q: What will the providers win?

A: Handheld RetinaVue camera will be awarded to five provider groups.

Q: What is a RetinaVue Camera?

A: It is a handheld camera which enables providers to conduct diabetic retinal exams in a primary care office setting.

Q: What is the purpose of a RetinaVue Camera?

A: Winners will have the ability to improve diabetic retinal eye exam rates by using the RetinaVue camera for any diabetic patient. Benefits include:

- Helps to improve patient health outcomes
- Offers quick, comfortable diabetic retinal exams during routine primary care office visits
- Saves patients the time and expense of a separate visit to the ophthalmologist
- Achieve NCQA® HEDIS® quality measures for annual diabetic retinal exams
- Accurately document chronic conditions and complications to improve care coordination and risk adjustment
- Improve total cost of care with early detection and treatment
- Available to any diabetic patient

Q: How does a primary care physician complete a diabetic retinal exam?

A: Winners will receive detailed training from the Baxter-Hillrom Vision Screening & Diagnostics team. Images of the patient's eyes are easily taken with the handheld RetinaVue camera in the PCP office. Exam images are then uploaded to RetinaVue, P.C.'s board-certified independent contractor ophthalmologists who evaluate and diagnose the retinal images submitted through the RetinaVue Network.

Q: Who is RetinaVue, P.C.?

A: RetinaVue, P.C. is a physician-owned professional medical corporation that is accredited by The Joint Commission. RetinaVue, P.C.'s board-certified independent contractor physicians, evaluate and diagnose the retinal images submitted through the RetinaVue Network.

Q: What is the value of the RetinaVue Camera?

A: Each RetinaVue Camera has an estimated prize value of $11,450.

Q: Are there any ongoing costs for RetinaVue Camera?

A: Yes. Each RetinaVue Camera will have the following costs:

- Network software service place, currently priced at $188 per month. Included in the sweepstakes prize is payment by Passport of the first 12- month RetinaVue network software service plan valued at $2256. Thereafter, each winner is responsible for any and all ongoing software plan expenses.
- All federal, state, and local taxes resulting from acceptance of prize are the sole responsibility of each winner.
- RetinaVue, P.C. charges a $15 reading fee for each exam. RetinaVue, P.C.'s board-certified independent contractor ophthalmologists evaluate and diagnose the retinal images submitted through the RetinaVue Network. This expense will be offset by the providers ability to bill for eye exams using the RetinaVue camera.

Q: How do I bill for eye exam images obtained by RetinaVue Camera in a PCP office?

A: Providers will bill Passport by Molina Healthcare for eye exam images performed on Passport members via the standard medical claims process. Frequently used eye exam CPT codes are 92228 and 92250.
