

Provider Communication:

Help Your Patients Complete Health Screenings and Earn Rewards

Molina Healthcare of New York, Inc. has launched its 2019 incentive program which aims to boost member participation in services for preventive care and condition management. Molina providers play an important role in helping qualified members complete these needed services and earning incentives. Gift cards can be used for basic household needs and incidentals.

This year's enhancements to the incentives include a car seat for the prenatal Pregnancy Rewards Program.

Molina mails program information to members who have missing services to remind them to schedule appointments and information on how they can earn a reward. The mailers have a reply card that members must fill out and return to Molina to participate in the programs. No postage is necessary. Members who complete their missing services and required verification will receive their gift card(s) in the mail between four to six weeks after their claims are received. We are also willing to leave gift cards directly with your office, please contact us if you are interested in this process.
