

Update to Reimbursement Rates for Ambulatory Surgical Centers

Effective June 1, 2023, the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) revised the reimbursement rates for Ambulatory Surgical Center (ASCs) and Hospital ASCs. These rate revisions shift from the group rate and locality code method of payment for each procedure code and now assigns fees by individual procedure code.

Molina is actively reprocessing claims impacted by these rate changes. Providers are not required to resubmit, or appeal claims impacted by these changes unless the claims were denied for additional reasons after the reprocessing is complete.

Per HHSC directive, MCOs are not required to pay interest related to impacted provider claims through December 31, 2023.

For more information on the reimbursement rates for ASCs, please refer to the Texas Medicaid Provider Procedures Manual. Please contact your provider relations representative or email MHTXProviderServices@MolinaHealthcare.com if you have questions about this change or your impacted claims.
