Manage Your Diabetes

Type 2 Diabetes occurs when your body resists the effects of insulin. Over time, your pancreas cannot make enough insulin to maintain a normal blood glucose level.

You can manage your diabetes. Take your medicine as directed by your provider. Monitor your blood glucose levels at home. Write down your results. See your provider often to manage your diabetes. Your provider will do blood tests, eye, foot and dental exams, and offer an annual flu shot.

Medicine Refills

Talk to your provider to learn what options you have to refill your medicine. Your medicine is important to help you manage your diabetes.
