

Healthy Smiles:

Dental Tips for Young Kids

Healthy, strong teeth are important to your child's growth. They can help your child with eating, talking and smiling.

Even though baby teeth get replaced, we want teeth to be healthy until the replacement shows up. These baby teeth are holding a place for the permanent tooth.

Taking care of your child's teeth and gums is one of the best things you can do for the overall health of your child.

Here are some ways you can help your child take care of their teeth:

- When your child's first teeth appear in the mouth use a soft washcloth to gently wipe the teeth.
- Always use a soft toothbrush that is made for children.
- Brush your child's teeth every day after breakfast and before bed time with fluoride toothpaste. Children under 2 only need a smear of toothpaste. Children ages 2 to 7 need a pea-sized amount.
- Always brush the front and backs of their teeth and the tops of the back teeth.
- Make sure your child spits out the toothpaste after brushing, but does not rinse.
- Floss your child's teeth when the teeth next to each other touch.
- Ask your dentist to show you how to floss your child's teeth.
- Wean your child from the pacifier before they are 3 but 12 months is preferred.

Help Your Child Eat Healthy!

A good diet can lead to a healthy smile and a healthy child! Just look at what's good for your child's teeth and what's not.

What's Good for Your Child's Teeth	What's Not Good for Your Child's Teeth
Fruits, Vegetables, Lean meats (chicken and fish), Dairy foods (yogurts and cheeses), Beans, Whole grain breads, Crackers, Popcorn	Cookies, Candy, Sugary foods, Potato chips, Other junk foods, Chewy Fruit Snacks
Water, Milk, 100% fruit juices (limit fruit juice to 4 to 6 ounces a day)	Sodas, Lemonade, Sweet teas, Other sugary drinks
Fill your child's bottle at night with water. Wean your baby from a bottle to a cup by the age of 12 to 14 months.	Do not fill your child's bottle at night with sugar filled drinks (juice, milk, soda). These will cause cavities.
Reward your child with hugs and smiles – not candy and treats!
